Northeast Only Block To Boys Town Repeat

By HAL BROWN

Star Sports Editor
Lincoln Northeast remains the sole remaining roadblock to the first repeat championship in the big school class of the Nebraska State Basketball Tournament since 1957 as the 56th annual tournament winds up Saturday night in Omaha's Civic Auditorium and Lincoln's NU Coliseum.

The task coach Ed Johnson's Rockets face is a job of stopping the last school to repeat when Northeast goes against Boys Town in the Class A finals in Omaha at 8:30 Saturday night.

No Class A team has repeated since the state tournament went back to a four-class field in 1960. Boys Town won back-to-back championships as a Class AA team in the six-class system in 1956-57.

If the Rockets are to accomplish the feat, most observers will regard it as an upset since Boys Town went into the tourney as the state's top-rated Class A outfit.

Boys Town, which last won a state championship in 1962, had a narrow escape Friday night against Omaha Benson before reaching the finals.

Although trailing only once against the team that set a Class A scoring record with 91 points Thursday night, the Rockets saw the score tied six different times in the final quarter before pulling away to a 70-65 decision.

Boys Town, the only 1965 champion to make it to the state tournament this season, had a much easier time in scoring a 74-48 runaway victory over Norfolk in the other Class A semifinal Friday night.

Champions from a year ago, Geneva in Class B, University High in Class C and Beaver Crossing in Class D, were eliminated in district or playoff competition this season.

One of the tourney's strongest favorites, Hebron in Class B, fell Friday night to Millard, 53-45, setting up an all-Omaha area final in Class B against Omaha Holy Name, a 78-54 victor over Hastings St. Cecilia.

Class C Pawnee City also was an upset victim in semi-final play when Grant took a 70-57 verdict. Grant will meet Bertrand, a 65-51 winner over Spencer in Saturday's Class C final at 1:45 at the NU Coliseum.

The Class D championship game at noon in the Coliseum sends Marquette against Elgin St. Boniface. Marquette conquered Sprague-Martell, 76-72, and St. Boniface downed Overton, 48-44.

GOP Lieutenant Governor Race Grows

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska Republicans are headed toward an eight-candidate primary scrap for the nomination for lieutenant governor if two prospective aspirants respond favorably to petitions filed on their behalf Friday.

The crowded GOP primary race for the state's second highest office stole the spotlight on the deadline day for filing for candidates in the May primary election.

Petitions were filed to enter State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly and Crete businessman Philip C. Anderson in the Republican struggle. Each has five days in which to accept or reject the request.

Already in the contest are three state senators, Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln and Sam Klaver of Omaha, and Omaha businessman John Everroad, Gering attorney Bruce Hagemeyer.

A host of state office-seekers will enter the primary without opposition.

No primary contest resulted for either party's nomination for secretary of state, auditor or attorney general.

Congress Races Light

Republican aspirants are unopposed in the U.S. Senate race, two of three congressional contests and for the Second District seat on the State Railway Commission.

Democratic candidates are unopposed in all three congressional races.

State Treasurer Fred Sorenson of Omaha faces Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks of McCook, widow of the former governor, in the Democratic primary contest for treasurer.

On the Republican slate, three contenders are bidding for their party's nomination, including State Railway Commissioners Wayne Swanson and Richard Larson. They were joined Friday by Herman Christensen of Fremont.

Ardt of Columbus in the Democratic senatorial primary, and a three-man contest for the First District Republican congressional struggle resulted when David City farmer Loran Schmit entered the fray.

Other First District GOP congressional hopefuls are Fairbury attorney Robert Denney and Robert Krall of Lincoln.

Democrats entered in the Second District railway commissioner contest are former State Treasurer Richard R. Larsen, William J. Lindsay and James F. Munnelly, all of Omaha.

Eight hopefuls are entered in the gubernatorial sweepstakes, and again the Republican primary contest offers the most names. Only addition to the list Friday was Hemingford grain dealer Bruce Hagemeyer.

Two state senators emerged unopposed in contests for 26 legislative district seats, including two which will be filled for two years to complete the terms of a pair of lawmakers who died this month.

Unopposed are Senator Carpenter and freshman lawmaker Ramey Whitney of Chappell.

In the lieutenant governor race, petitions for Philip Anderson were filed by his son, Mark, a University of Nebraska student. They contained 28 signatures. Twenty-five are needed.

Warner's petitions, which contained about 400 signatures gathered in a seven-hour period, were filed by John Scott of Lincoln.

Contacted Friday night, Warner said he has not yet decided whether to accept the petition filing, but he said he was "quite pleased" about the number of signatures urging him to make the race.

Warner's father, the late Charles J. Warner, served as lieutenant governor from 1949 to 1955.

Anderson was in New York and unavailable for comment.

Some 51 candidates filed during the final day, bringing the total number to 276.

has been estimated that more than 100,000 communists have been killed in Indonesia since Oct. 1. The country has a population of more than 100 million.

In the past few days, students, with tacit support from the army, have sacked the Red Chinese consulate general, the Chinese commercial attaché's home and the Jakarta bureau of Peking's New China News Agency.

The Indonesian debacle follows severe rebuffs to Red China in Ghana, where Chinese diplomats, newsmen and advisors were expelled following the ouster Feb. 24 of President Kwame Nkrumah, and in other African countries including Kenya.

Sukarno joined with Dr. Mohammed Hatta in proclaiming independence from the Dutch Aug. 17, 1945. The attempted coup.

Dutch finally granted it in 1949.

"Bung Karno" (brother Sukarno), as he is known in Indonesia, was never elected president, but has held the job since independence. As recently as last week he said he would never give up the job.

Sukarno named the relatively little known anti-communist Lt. Gen. Subandrio as army commander.

Subandrio's fate.

Sources in Singapore—in constant touch with Jakarta—said Sukarno would keep the title of president but would have no real power.

Move On Leftists

(U.S. Ambassador Marshall Greene, reached in Jakarta by the American Broadcasting Co., by telephone, said Indonesia's political troubles were being handled in a "peaceful and favorable manner." He said he expected the new military authorities to move against the leftists. The ambassador said the new authorities planned a parade in Jakarta to celebrate.)

Highly reliable sources here said they expected Suharto to impose martial law throughout the sprawling island republic of the old Dutch East Indies.

Suharto has been under increasing and violent pressure from anti-communist students, intellectuals and the armed forces to get rid of communist elements believed responsible for last October's abortive coup.

In the months since then, the country's economy has gone from bad to worse. The ills included galloping inflation.

Army Eludes Blame

The army, given many positions of power by Sukarno after it suppressed the coup, has managed to escape public blame for the deteriorating economic situation.

The load has fallen instead on Sukarno, who thinks of himself as the incarnation of the Indonesian spirit.

It has been estimated that more than 100,000 communists have been killed in Indonesia since Oct. 1. The country has a population of more than 100 million.

Helicopters Pluck Out Ashau Valley Survivors

RESCUERS DODGE RED GUNPOSTS' FIRE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Darting in under communist fire, U.S. Marine helicopters plucked out 59 more survivors Friday of a lost battle at the Ashau Valley Special Forces camp. The high risk missions boosted the toll of rescued to 155.

B-52 jets staged an explosive sequel to the fall of the frontier camp, which temporarily blinded a Green Beret watch on red infiltration routes from Laos. The eight-engine bombers from Guam saturated another frontier area, in the central highlands three miles from Cambodia's border, described as an old communist assembly point.

U.S. fighter-bomber pilots managed to fly 11 missions against communist North Viet Nam Thursday though they, like the airmen who tried vainly to turn the tide at Ashau, were handicapped by heavy overcast. Highways, ferry landings and warehouses were among the targets.

Lowland Sweep
Field action generally abated, but Vietnamese troops reported they killed 17 Viet Cong, captured three and seized a stand of weapons with only light losses in a sweep across coastal lowlands of Binh Dinh province, 255 miles northeast of Saigon.

A terrorist grenade blasted at a U.S. military jeep on its way from Saigon to the capital's Tan Son Nhut Airport. Four American soldiers and four Vietnamese passengers were injured.

Ten who came back from the fight for the Ashau Valley fortress, overwhelmed by a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment Thursday after a 39-hour fight, were Americans. The rest were Montagnard irregulars and Vietnamese troops from the 360-man garrison, plus three women, soldiers' dependents.

Killed Or Captured

While these had reached concealment in bullet-whipped elephant grass around the camp, near the Laotian frontier 60 miles northwest of Da Nang, the bulk of the garrison and most of the 15 or 20 U.S. Special Forces men on Laboring with heavy loads, some of the choppers barely cleared ground obstacles in taking off.

The wounded were hospitalized at Phu Bai, a Marine base in the Iue area 40 miles north of Da Nang.

Lose One Of Four

Brig. Gen. Marion E. Carl, assistant commander of the 1st Marine Air Wing, told newsmen in Da Nang he figured he would lose one out of four of the rescue ships.

"It was a high risk mission," he said. "It was pretty obvious that they had a trap all set up for us."

Weather conditions and the tactical situation were reported to have combined to rule out an airlift of fresh soldiers to the camp.

Commitment of additional troops "would have just meant sending more men into the meat grinder unless we sent in tremendous reinforcements," Carl said.

The battle cost to the United States included six aircraft in all—three combat planes and three helicopters.

The ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi as commander of the 1st Corps area and as a member of the Saigon military government led to a peaceful demonstration in the streets of Da Nang, which has been his headquarters.

Dawn broke quietly over Calcutta, and some public transport service was resumed. But then the mobs poured into the street in response to the leftists' call, set fire to two street cars and a street car depot.

Violence spread to parts of the city untouched in Thursday's fighting. Police, backed by troops, threw up barricades against the howling crowds.

A two-mile stretch near Tumbliring Square in central Calcutta was turned into a battlefield. Police used tear gas to disperse the mobs.

Fire On Mobs

Reports of arson, stoning, looting and bomb throwing poured into Calcutta from the suburbs and nearby towns. A railway bridge was set ablaze in the northern suburb of Barrackpore. Five times police had to fire on the mobs.

Army units went into action in areas where police units lost control.

The Calcutta riots, the rebellion of Mizoram tribesmen in southern Assam state, and unrest over food and job shortages throughout India posed a serious challenge to Mrs. Gandhi's government.

Leftists in parliament charged the Calcutta rioters were goaded into action by the shortage of rice and kerosene and Mrs. Gandhi's inability or reluctance to do anything about it. Communist members shouted "it's a lie" to charges that they incited violence.

Air Crash Fatal For 4 Persons

NORTHERN GAS PLANE; FOUR OTHERS INJURED

Kirksville, Mo. (UPI)—A private, twin-engine airplane owned by Omaha, Neb., firm crashed 20 miles northwest of here Friday and killed four persons.

Four others were critically injured and were brought to a Kirksville hospital.

Officers reported the dead had been identified as:

Mrs. M. Howard Benton, Omaha.

Burton Simmons, 32, Omaha.

R. J. Marlin, General Electric, Kansas City.

De Wayne Murphy, 32, copilot, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Those injured were Stephen Allen House, 32, Omaha; George Cornelius, 37, Omaha; M. Howard Benton, 39, Omaha; and Bill West, 42, the pilot, Omaha.

The twin-engine Beechcraft, owned by Northern Natural Gas Co., of Omaha, was reported en route from Roanoke, Va., to Omaha.

Both Engines Out

The Federal Aviation Agency said the pilot reported that both of his engines had gone out and he planned to glide the ship to the Kirkville Airport.

But the plane crashed on a farm, about six miles northeast of Greencastle, Mo. Witnesses said when the plane came down it struck a tree and landed in a creek bed.

Skies were overcast at the time and there was some rain and fog in the area.

The FAA said the first report from the pilot indicated he was flying at 16,000 feet, northwest of Kirksville.

Louisiana Lake Is Searched For Missing Melbeta Driver

Covington, La. (UPI)—Authorities continued a search Friday for the body of Jerome Tomjack. Melbeta, Neb., truck driver missing since the cab of his truck Thursday plunged into Lake Pontchartrain.

Low April Draft Asked By Defense

Washington (UPI)—The Defense Department Friday issued an April draft call for 21,700 men, an eight-month low. All will serve in the Army.

The declining induction quota has followed a pattern of rising Army enlistments, which hit a 10-year high of 19,000 in January.

The April call, transmitted to the Selective Service System, was slightly below a 22,400-man March quota, which had been the smallest since 16,500 were inducted prior to last August's military buildup for Viet Nam.

The draft reached 40,200 men in December, highest since the Korean War.

Latest official figures show total armed forces strength of 2,899,724 men on Jan. 31. The goal is 3,093,000 men in uniform.

Fridays' announcement said only that the April quota was set "after allowance for estimated losses and accessions through voluntary enlistment programs."

State Call To Drop

Col. Francis Drath, head of Nebraska's Selective Service manpower division, estimated Friday that the state's draft call for April will be approximately 150-175 men. About 225 Nebraskans will be called into active duty during the month of March.

National Officer Due At Nebraska FFA Convention

James Stetzelin of Ashland, Ohio, national vice president of Future Farmers of America, will be a featured speaker at the Nebraska FFA convention to be held March 31 to April 2 in the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln.

About 1,500 FFA members from 124 schools with local chapters are expected to attend this 28th annual convention, according to B. E. Gingery, state advisor.

Lawrence Kuhlmann of North Platte is state FFA president.

North Central Flooding Due To Ice Jams

Valentine (UPI)—Ice jams along the Niobrara River northeast of here Friday night flooded lowlands threatening ranchers and their livestock and damaged bridges in the area.

Keya Paha County Sheriff O. D. Jamison Friday afternoon warned ranchers to move cattle from low-lying areas to higher ground.

An ice jam at the county line bridge on the Niobrara between Cherry and Keya Paha Counties backed up water for 1½ miles flooding lowlands in its path. Only a few ranch homes are located in the area.

High water from the ice jams near Riverview north of Bassett closed the bridge on Highway 181.

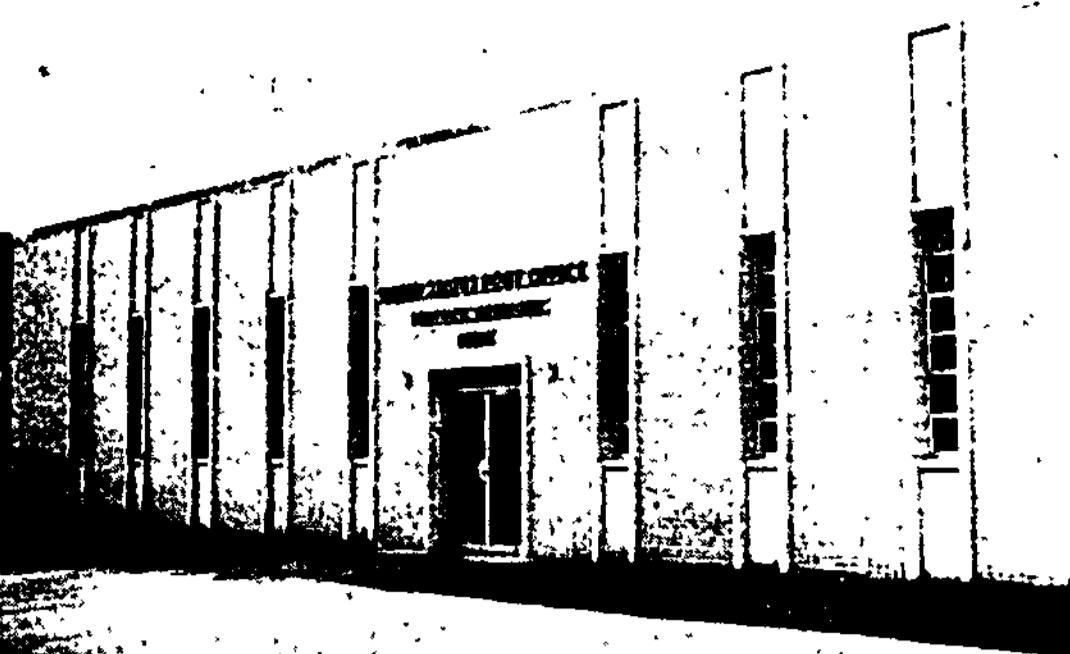

Icy waters took out the pilings in the center of the Meadville bridge 14 miles north of Ainsworth on the old Highway 7 which is now a county road.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said Highway 7 was still open to traffic between Ainsworth and Springview late Friday.

The county bridge about four miles north of Norden, Neb., was closed due to the washout of an approach.

Waters swelled about 6½ to 7 feet above normal at the Cornell power plant in Valentine Thursday night sending two feet of water running through the power house.

Some of the generators became damp but continued to function. The water had passed downstream from Valentine by Friday evening.

Atom Smasher Slashed Site List Due Soon

Washington (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission has advised Congress that it expects to receive fairly soon a report on recommended sites for the proposed $375 million proton accelerator.

AEC officials said, however, that they are reserving the right to make additions to the final list of recommendations. The atom smasher would be used in basic research.

The AEC also told the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee that once the AEC gets the recommendations, it may take several months more to select final winner.

The National Academy of Sciences has set up a committee that has been working since last September to slash the list of 85 proposed locations in 43 states that survived the initial elimination process. The committee is expected to recommend between five and 10 sites to the AEC.

Peru Will Host Journalism Meet

Peru—Area schools will participate in the district journalism contest of the Nebraska High School Press Association at Peru State College, Saturday, March 19. Co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska School of Journalism, tests will cover 10 areas. The contestants will register at 9:30 a.m. at the Peru State Student Center and will meet for a general session at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Lois Berger, Nebraska City journalism instructor, is contest director, and Don Carllie, director of special services at Peru State, is district contest center chairman.

Mead On List

A site near Mead is one of the 85 areas considered for the accelerator. In November a four-member Atomic Energy Commission inspection team visited Mead to look over the 8,834 acres available for AEC use.

"It may be a few days yet, but we'll have to shut off the current once we've completely vacated," noted the Beatrice. "Electric motors pull the clock weights, so I guess people will have to get their time elsewhere."

Could be, of course, that the successful bidder on the 73-year-old building will elect to leave the landmark tower and timepiece (18 years younger) intact. That remains to be seen-while the attention now turns to the new facility and its 13,000 square feet.

Courage Is The Key

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

In the life and writings of Mari Sandoz, probably the most prominent author the state has produced, emphasis is placed upon a way of life that now exists only in the pages of such books as the 17 she had published. Miss Sandoz died in New York this week, a victim of cancer. But the courage instilled in her as a child never left her even when her illness became known.

Rather than seeking out a resolute approach to life, Miss Sandoz took the news of her illness in stride and announced her intention of proceeding with work on some seven additional books. She knew she would never finish them all but she intended to try. The authoress was a product of pioneer Nebraska, of times when life was often harsh and demanding. The prime consideration in those days was just staying alive, a consideration that stayed with Miss Sandoz through the early years of her life. It brought her to the newsroom of this newspaper during the years when she was writing "Old Jules," an account of her father and family life that was published in 1935.

Success of her books, of course, lifted the cloud of hard economic times that had always weighed upon her but the imprint had been indelibly made. But it was an imprint of hard times tempered with something else. Miss Sandoz had a great admiration for the country in which she was raised and those who played a part in its development.

There are those who believe it is too bad that times today are not what they were at the turn of the last century. In some respects this is true but it is to overlook the real nature of life and your environment. While the environment of young people today is quite a contrast with the childhood days of Miss Sandoz, opportunity is no less.

The past is characterized by rugged individualism, by hard work and personal sacrifice. It produced in many people a determination to succeed that could not be quieted. It instilled in them a tenacity that could not easily be shaken. It gave them, too, a sense of values that left satisfaction in the achievement of even small things. Yet, it was a hard life and all those who lived it worked that it might be changed for a future generation. It has changed, too, but the environment we have today is not necessarily secondary to that of the pioneer days. The principles by which we live and by which the next generation will live are

State Deposits At 4 Percent

The Missouri river, where it separates Iowa from Nebraska, carries more things downstream than mud, dead trees and water. It carries away logic, too.

For instance: Nebraska State Treasurer Fred Sorensen has ignored the state's policy of using tax surpluses to buy U.S. Treasury certificates, some now yielding as much as 5 per cent interest. Lately he has chosen to return substantial deposits to a dozen or so banks which, since the middle thirties, pay nothing for them. Mr. Sorensen says the money in local banks will stimulate the Nebraska economy. Well, it may and may not. That depends upon the bankers, not on Mr. Sorensen. The former may find it more advisable to buy U.S. Treasury certificates at 5 per cent and make for themselves that which the state could make for itself with the same money.

Iowa currently has a problem on the same subject, but with greatly different con-

Guatemala's Election

Guatemala is close to another bloody uprising.

The issue is the recent election there. Guatemala has had a military government which has been able to suppress public violence and kept its word and staged a presidential election.

Guatemala, like many other troubled countries unschooled in the ethics of democracy, has a habit of rigging its elections. The elections are not over in one day but require about a fortnight for the various political elements to miscount the ballots.

At the outset of the election period Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro was carrying a clear lead over his rival, an army man. Montenegro, himself, is an opponent

Rose Buff, 88, Upset By End Of Winning Streak

By ROBERT PETERSON
Q. "I've received either blue or red ribbons for my roses eight years running at the flower show. But this year my best entry got just little spot. Do you think they were discriminating against me because, at 88, I'm the oldest rose buff in the nation?"

A. If the judges had known your age, they'd have probably given you first prize. In areas other than employment, society generally fails all over itself to bestow recognition, praise and honors on senior citizens who display pluck, spunk and a never-say-die outlook on life.

Q. "My sister has a seven-room apartment, plenty of alimony and lots of free time—but absolutely no close friends. She says she doesn't need friends, but she looks mighty lonely to me. What's to be done?"

A. If she has no friends and professes little interest, it's probably because she's unsure of herself. About all you can do is buck up her confidence, encourage her to join groups where she'll rub elbows with others, and bring folks in occasionally with whom she may find interests in common.

Q. "The public school where I teach French requires us to retire at 65. So they're giving me the gate next January after 22 years of teaching. I'm widowed, and must keep on working as my pension will be just $175 monthly. I'm very depressed about the future."

A. Cheer up. While public schools drop teachers at 65, most private schools have no age limitations on staff members. With your educational background, you should be able to snag a job—full-time or part-time—at some private school, even if it's merely as a clerk or receptionist. And with your knowledge of French you never need go hungry. You can always hang out your shingle and attract some of the culture-minded folks in every community who dearly want to be tutored in French.

A. Running a motel is more complicated than it sounds. But if you're sufficiently interested to study the mechanics of successful motel operation it may prove a splendid retirement occupation. Democratic gubernatorial candidate Henry Ley Friday praised Gov. Frank Morrison's administration as "a sound and outstanding administration which has built a superior governmental structure."

Morrison, in accepting the resignation, said Ley has performed "an outstanding job" as banking director and has "brought great credit to the state of Nebraska." Ley said that "it is only because so many people have spoken to me about the need for a mature, capable man for governor that I have made the decision to seek the Democratic nomination for that important office."

Cunningham, a member of the House Commerce Committee to which the legislation has been referred, formerly was manager of the Omaha chapter of the National Safety Council.

His measure would apply to buses which accommodate 10 or more passengers.

Nebraska, he said, will be facing many problems and will be confronted with many decisions that will have far-reaching effects into the next 100 years of Nebraska."

This will be a time for efficient government, sound in thought and action, "the kind of government that will take the wisdom of age and the trial of experience," Ley said.

If elected, Ley said he would continue Governor Morrison's "Sell Nebraska" program to bring additional industry to the state and find new markets for its products.

Supreme Court Vindicates Law Enforcement Officers

The State Supreme Court vindicated three law enforcement officers Friday who fired at a speeding automobile after the driver allegedly refused to stop.

However, the high court noted the use of firearms to stop a car is "an extreme measure which should be used in only the most serious cases."

Harold D. Breese, 24, of Ogallala, had sought damages against Chase County Sheriff Wayne Newman, Deputy Sheriff Harry Smith and Imperial Marshal William Gleason.

Breese's car was riddled with bullets on Aug. 24, 1964, as it approached the intersection of U.S. Highway 6 and State Highway 61 near Imperial. Breese and a passenger, Gary Berges of Ogallala, were not injured.

Breese pleaded guilty to willful reckless driving the next day.

A Chase District Court jury ruled the officers were not negligent.

"The plaintiff (Breese) in this case was operating his automobile in an illegal manner in the presence of the defendants (the officers), and it was their duty to arrest and detain the plaintiff," the high court said.

"In making an arrest, an officer may use whatever force is reasonably required," and the appropriateness of the officers' action was a question for the jury to decide, said the court.

Breese's attorney contended peace officers should be permitted to use firearms in misdemeanor cases only for self defense, but the court noted the speeding car "affected the safety and welfare of other persons upon the highway."

Ley Praises Morrison's Administration

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Henry Ley Friday praised Gov. Frank Morrison's administration as "a sound and outstanding administration which has built a superior governmental structure."

Ley formally resigned as state banking director and filed as a candidate with the secretary of state.

Morrison, in accepting the resignation, said Ley has performed "an outstanding job" as banking director and has "brought great credit to the state of Nebraska."

This will be a time for efficient government, sound in thought and action, "the kind of government that will take the wisdom of age and the trial of experience," Ley said.

If elected, Ley said he would continue Governor Morrison's "Sell Nebraska" program to bring additional industry to the state and find new markets for its products.

'Road Ranch' Said Just New Name

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen said Friday that proposed "road ranches" along Interstate 80 are not a new concept, but just a new name.

"These road ranches will be principally recreational areas," he said. "It's just a more glamorous name for the overnight camping and trailer accommodations."

Commission members voiced enthusiasm for Steen's program at their regular meeting.

"It's necessary to prime the pump to create tourist business," Steen said. "Nebraska can't afford second-rate development along the Interstate if the state is going to attract the trade."

Taxes 'Invested'

Steen noted only 25% of the department's $4.6 million budget in 1965 came from tax funds, and a similar amount was "invested" in capital improvements and recreational areas.

"The tax money is not being spent, but invested," he emphasized. "Twenty years from now these recreational areas can be liquidated for twice the investment."

Steen said revenue from non-resident hunting fees now slightly exceeds resident fees, but the state is still a long ways from a maximum harvest of birds and should do more to attract out-of-state hunters.

"The harvest of birds has been increased from 45% to 55% by promotional efforts, but a potential 90% harvest is there," he said. "It's wasted birds and a $5 million loss of business if Nebraska doesn't attract more hunters."

Teal Season Set

In other action, the commission set Sept. 3 to 11 as the state's Teal duck season with a daily bag of four. This will be the second year of the experimental season.

Permit applications must be submitted by Aug. 3. Last year, 7,000 permits were issued.

The commission abandoned negotiations for a Norfolk site for a proposed district office and directed potential sites in other communities be investigated.

A Norfolk location had been under consideration, but the commission was told "the price was doubled" since initial discussions.

Also approved was the promotion of Gene Hornbeck as assistant chief of the commission's information division.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson were elected co-presidents of the unit, and other new officers will be Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shanner, first vice presidents; Mrs. Kathryn Hurst, second vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hyde, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hassell, co-treasurers.

There are traditions—and traditions. Each has its own special reason and significance. Some of them even can be fun and exciting—that's the variety we have in mind at the moment because when a fire truck and a Fireman's Ball converge upon the Chi Phi fraternity house at one and the same time, anything can happen. The fire truck and the Fireman's Ball (planned for this evening) are traditional with the Chi Phis on the Nebraska campus. Both date away back to Chi Phi's early beginnings at Nebraska. It seems that during spring cleaning one year, a fire broke out and destroyed not only the furnishings, but some brand new suits that the men had hanging in the closets. Fortunately there was insurance to cover the losses, so following the cleaning up process and the refurbishing, the fraternity decided to have a dance in the newly decorated house. Since a fire had been responsible for new furniture and new clothes, what better way to celebrate than with a fire truck and a Fireman's Ball.

Then, to make it even more of a tradition, it was decided to have the Fireman's Ball each year during the basketball tournament. And if you should be passing 1345 R St. today please note the fire truck. It will be there. It always is—the day of the Fireman's Ball. The truck, incidentally, is brought to Lincoln from Crete.

If you've ever experienced Spring Fever then you will agree that yesterday was an extremely susceptible day for the welcome malady.

A Spring Fever patient will show certain symptoms such as composing excuses to get out of work in order to head for the great outdoors; purchasing a convertible; digging out your summer wardrobe and making a few trips down to the local ice cream parlor—to get cooled off, whether or not it is necessary.

But we have discovered that these symptoms have nothing to do with this weekend which will be a busy one, socially speaking that is.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for seven years and am still very much in love with my wife. About six months ago, she became close friends with another married woman who has two small children. (We have none.) This friendship developed into an everyday thing, and then several nights a week.

Finally the two of them started taking weekend trips out of town to visit relatives. Due to my constant objections, my wife left me. The other woman is still living with her husband who baby-sits for her while she and my wife go off somewhere together. What course do you advise me to follow in trying to get my wife back home?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Your problem is not getting your wife back home. It's getting her to stay there. First, see a lawyer. Then talk to your wife and find out where you stand. Apparently she prefers the companionship of her friend, in which case even if you could persuade her to come home, it would be like barking up your brother.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading all the "pros" and "cons" relative to snoring, and I believe this takes care of the situation once and for all. It is something you had in your column. "A husband's snoring is the sweetest music this side of heaven. Ask any widow." Sincerely,

NO MUSIC IN MENLO

Opening lead — jack of spades.

This hand was played many years ago. It is not easy to see that declarer can make all thirteen tricks against the spade lead.

Readers who enjoy double-dummy problems (which simply means that declarer is permitted to look at all four hands in trying to solve the problem) are welcome to try this one. Obviously, if declarer were to stake the hand on the club finesse — which would be a reasonable thing to do — he would go down one.

But if declarer either omnisciently or surreptitiously decides that East has both black kings, he can make the contract regardless of how the defense carries on.

Declarer ducks the jack of spades in dummy and wins it with the ace. He then draws five rounds of trumps, discarding the queen of clubs on the fifth one. When he now cashes the A-K-Q of diamonds, this becomes the position:

♦ Q 8
♦ J
West 10 9 ♦ East ♦ K 8
♦ J 8 South ♦ K 10

South next leads the six of diamonds to the jack. West cannot afford to discard the nine of spades because, if he does, declarer will lead the queen from dummy, trapping East's king and West's ten on the same trick, and thus promoting the eight into a trick. So let's say that West discards a club.

Dummy wins the diamond and now East feels the pinch. He cannot discard the six of spades because South will ruff the eight, felling the king and making the queen a trick. So East discards the club ten.

Declarer thereupon cashes the ace of clubs and makes the last two tricks with the six of hearts and deuce of clubs.

at evening service

Bouquets of iris in blue and pale pink decorated the altar of the United Church of Christ in Cortland Friday evening, March 11, for the wedding of Miss Beverly Ann Ehrlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ehrlich of Cortland, and Kenneth R. Westphal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Westphal. The service was solemnized at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Francis Turpin.

Wearing frocks of blue taffeta and lace with bow bandeau in matching silk were Miss Carol Hansel, the honor attendant, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Bonebright of Cortland, and Miss Jeannene Douglass.

Wilbur Westphal served his brother as best man, and sealing the guests were Orville Westphal, Edward Huston, Delton Buis and Roger Ehrlich.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk taffeta and lace. Natural scallops of the lace edged the rounding neckline of the lace-over-taffeta bodice, and vertical panels of the lace emphasized the princess lines of the full skirt, which was draped into a back bustle and continued into a chapel train. A single satin rose held in the head her bouffant veil of illusion, and she carried a lace-covered Bible clustered with pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Westphal will make their home at 1325 So. 35th. The bride is a former student at the Lincoln School of Commerce and National Business Institute.

Bridal Parties, Plans Are Revealed

Entertaining in prenuptial courtesy to a spring bride-to-be next Friday evening, March 18, will be Miss Jeanne Schneider, Miss Nancy Schneider and Mrs. Michael Schneider who will honor Miss Sandra Johnson at a miscellaneous shower. The party will be held at the home of Mrs. Alice Schneider, who is the grandmother of Miss Johnson's fiance, John D. Schneider, and the guests will include feminine members of the family.

The soon-to-be bride, whose wedding will take place on Saturday, April 9, also was the guest of honor last Wednesday evening when Mrs. Jerry Anderson entertained office co-workers at a miscellaneous shower.

mother of Miss Johnson's fiance, John D. Schneider, and the guests will include feminine members of the family.

For the ceremony, to be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at Vine Congregational Church, Miss Johnson has named Miss Janeen Mook as her maid of honor and only attendant.

Gary Schneider of Ashland, will serve his cousin as best man.

Miss DeMars Ann Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mirwyn F. Jackson, has announced that her marriage to George R. Tinius will be an event of Saturday, April 23.

The bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. Paul True, as her honor attendant for the wedding, which will take place at 1:30 o'clock, at St. John's Church. The bridesmaids will be Miss Connie Coufal of Bruno, and Miss Jane Frey, and Miss Dobra Jackson will attend her sister as junior bridesmaid.

Mark Tinius will serve his brother as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Gene Graf, Terry Fusco, Leroy Starr and Al Hansen. John Joseph Schwindt will serve as junior groomsmen.

The Way Grows Much Brighter When God Gives Us Our Marching Orders

Why Compromise

—when the road to happiness offers so much? There are only two marked ways...one leads to happiness—the other to oblivion. One might lead to Heaven—the other to hell. But why despair when the going gets rough, when you have a decision to make? This may be the true measure God uses to separate the good from the bad; the chaff from the wheat; men of strength and character from those with none. Why compromise with oblivion staring you in the face?

It is an unexaggerated testimonial of weakness. One may loose the bird in the hand; lose all the God-given opportunities for service and most of all, your own soul. Maybe you still have time to come to church and let it help you decide the direction to go.

Hagemeister Candidate For Gubernatorial Nomination

Bruce Hagemeister, a Hemingford grain dealer and former president of the State Normal Board, filed Friday as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Hagemeister's candidacy boosted the number of GOP contenders to five.

The issues in the 1966 gubernatorial campaign are fair taxation, improved educational advantages, a more prosperous agriculture, attraction of industry and tourism and realization of the state's potential, Hagemeister said.

"Our goals in these fields can only be accomplished by prompt and courageous compromise by Nebraskans and it would be my objective to bring about such compromises," he said.

"In these areas, and after several years in which our Legislature has made good consolidation of our many school districts, full support of industrialization processes and the development of planned recreational facilities to attract visitors to our state."

Hagemeister, 56, has grain, lumber and farming interests. He served on the Normal Board for six years.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he was a delegate to the 1964 Republican state convention. He is a director and executive board member of the National Association of Grain and Feed Dealers and is a past president of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Assn., and the Nebraska Grain Improvement Assn.

Hagemeister said he will campaign by personal aircraft and maintain offices in Hemingford and at the Omaha Grain Exchange.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

First Grader Has Trouble Adjusting

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason:

We have a problem with our six-year-old daughter, who is in the first grade. She has difficulty in adjusting to normal first-grade standards. Generally, she shows a short span of attention, has little self-control, is impulsive; and has a highly emotional behavior pattern. She also had the same problems in her kindergarten year. However, she is intelligent, likeable and friendly.

I have worked with both her teachers through last year and this. She has shown very little improvement.

Can you please help us? Mrs. T. M., Montclair, Calif.

Answer:

Your daughter needs a subtle and sympathetic approach to help her build up self-confidence. It is much more effective than scolding, pushing or forcing. Pushing will only cause her further lack of self-confidence.

At home, let her know that you have confidence in her eventual success in school. As far as possible, let the teacher handle the school situation. Too much involvement on your part may only add to the pressure on the child. The teacher should let her work along with a quiet, confident child and proceed slowly and with caution.

M. L. Irvington, N.J.

Answer:

I would like to buy a good dictionary for a high school student but find it very difficult to select the right one. Consequently, I would appreciate your recommending a suitable one.

Johnson, 45, has practiced law in Gering for 14 years. He was Scotts Bluff county attorney from 1954 to 1958.

Johnson is attorney and executive secretary of the Gering Valley Watershed Conservancy District.

His interest in politics was first generated by his grandfathers, both of whom served at the same time in the Nebraska Legislature when it was a bicameral body, he said. C. W. Johnson served in the Senate and Henry Challberg served in the House.

BOYS TOWN,

ROCKETS IN 'A' FINALS

... Winners Take Different Routes In Semis

By DON FORSYTHE

Prep Sports Writer

Omaha—it will be defending champion Boys Town and Northeast in the big one at Municipal Auditorium here Saturday night.

Taking opposite routes into the Class A basketball finals the Cowboys and Rockets set up a rematch of a semifinal round meeting in the 1965 state tourney.

Boys Town stormed past Norfolk, 75-48, while Northeast was fighting for survival in a 70-56 thriller over Omaha Benson to set the stage for tonight's title game.

If the Rockets come up with the same strategy they employed against Benson the title will be a battle of full court presses and fast break attacks.

Boys Town made it look easy against outmanned Norfolk, but Benson provided a much sterner challenge for the Rockets, who had lost to the Bunnies, 70-67, in early January.

Hebron Stumbles In Class B Semis

MILLARD TO MEET HOLY NAME IN FINALS TONIGHT

By TOM HENDERSON

Star Sports Writer

Tourney favorite Hebron and Hastings St. Cecilia won't make it to the finals of the State Class B Basketball Tournament this year.

The highly-touted Bears hit every free throw chance they had, but they didn't get enough as Millard took a 53-45 victory, and Mike Aspen couldn't handle Omaha Holy Name's balanced scoring attack by himself as Hastings St. Cecilia fell, 79-54, at the NU Coliseum in Friday's semifinals.

Hebron matched Millard's 20 field goals and hit a perfect five of five from the free throw line, but the Indians took advantage of 14 Bear infractions to hit 13 of 15 charity shots to move into the finals against Holy Name at 6:30 tonight.

Hebron took a 10-6 first quarter lead and went on to a 27-19 halftime advantage, but the Bears could manage only six points in the third period, while Millard pumped in 13, taking a 34-32 lead moving into the final eight minutes.

Loren Peithman and Wayne Henning each scored buckets to start the final quarter, giving the Bears the lead again, 27-24. But a fielder and three free throws by Millard's Wes Hawkins knotted the count at 39-all.

Hebron took two-point leads several times in the next few minutes, but baskets by Rich Henrig, and Bill and Rich Hansen put the Indians ahead to stay, 45-41, with two minutes to play.

A fielder by Henning brought the Bears to within three with 30 seconds left, but two more free throws and another fielder by Hawkins wrapped up the victory for the Indians.

Holy Name scored 20 points in each of the last two periods, while the Blue Hawks could get only 14 in that time.

McMillan and Dan Sieczkowski each got 14 points for the winners, and Paul Sieczkowski added 13.

Holy Name went into the intermission with a 39-28 lead, and the Ramblers didn't let the Hastings club come any closer.

Holy Name scored 20 points in each of the last two periods, while the Blue Hawks could get only 14 in that time.

McMillan and Dan Sieczkowski each got 14 points for the winners, and Paul Sieczkowski added 13.

Elgin St. Boniface, Marquette In Wins

By GEORGE KAUFMAN

Star Sports Writer

Two highly successful coaches take their high-spirited Class D tourney charges into a showdown Saturday, after a wild Friday afternoon of semifinal action at the NU Coliseum.

Coach Lee Penner's Marquette Cubs had to stage a near-impossible comeback to eliminate Sprague-Martell, 76-72, in the final 20 seconds of the game, and Gary Schmidt's Elgin St. Boniface Knights fought off a valiant Overton rally to advance to the finals on a 48-44 decision that wasn't determined until the final five seconds.

The Cubs, down by as much as 15 points several times in the third quarter, gave the Marquette fans their money's worth by throwing on a full-court press in the final period and drawing up to a 72-72 deadlock with 25 seconds remaining.

Then Jack Davis, hefty 6-3 Marquette center, grabbed an offensive rebound with his back to the basket and sank a turn-around jumper to wrap up the successful rally.

"It was reflex more than anything else," said the Marquette junior after the game, "I just got a glimpse of the basket and shot."

Panther guard Terry Egger played havoc with the Marquette defenses, dumping in 32 points despite a slumping Cub man-to-man press in the second half.

"We knew Egger would shoot a lot, but there's just no way to stop him," said Penner, "We just tried to offset him by trying to get underneath."

Penner's club was taken out in the regional play-offs last year by Beaver Crossing, who went on to gain the Class D crown in Lincoln.

This year the tables are reversed, as the Cubs eliminated the Beavers in a play-off revenge game, and now stand within touching distance of that crown.

But also reaching out for that trophy is a determined St. Boniface crew, and coach Gary Schmidt thinks he has the quickness and height to claim it.

"They killed Sprague-Martell with their quickness," he said after watching Marquette in the first game of the afternoon, "but I think we have speed plus height."

Schmidt credited his switch in tactics from loose man-to-man to a zone defense after the intermission for the win. Overton started with a zone defense, which gave them a 32-25 halftime lead, then switched to a man-to-man after intermission.

"I can't figure out why they took their zone off us after it worked so well in the first half," said Schmidt, "they played right into our change of tactics."

Schmidt said when he called time-out, leading 45-44 with just 44 seconds on the clock, he told his boys to move the ball and avoid a tie-up.

Carrying a record of 24-2 into the clash with Marquette, Schmidt boasts a 65-6 overall mark in his three years at the helm of the Knights.

Six School Service Centers Okayed

By VIRGIL FALLOON

Star Staff Writer

State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller recommended Friday that federal officials approve six of nine Nebraska projects proposed under a section of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act designed to current year.

spur development of supplementary services and centers. The six projects, proposed by schools in Omaha, Lincoln, Seward and Dodge Counties and rural Sumner, seek $333,183 in federal funds, while Nebraska's remaining allotment totals $266,000 for the

Dr. Miller, after reviewing recommendations of a special advisory committee, suggested federal officials reject proposals submitted by schools in Ogallala, Loup City and Bellevue.

Projects costing $430,000 for programs for Alliance and Omaha schools and the statewide Educational Television Network were approved under Title III of the act last year.

Recommended

Projects recommended for approval, listing sponsor type of program and federal funds request, include:

- Omaha Public Schools, instructional materials center and in-service training program for use of the materials, $218,950.

- Lincoln Public Schools, an instruction materials center for inner and outer space subjects at the elementary level, $53,856.

- Dodge County schools, mobile classroom units to provide supplemental educational experiences, $25,630.

- Omaha Westside Community School District 66, comprehensive mental health services, $20,122.

Seward Survey

- Seward County schools, educational and cultural survey of Seward County, $9,850.

- Consolidated school at Sumner, supplemental education center, $4,975.

The Omaha and Lincoln projects had been submitted previously, but returned by Washington for specific modifications.

Projects recommended for non-approval were Ogallala schools, resident trainable school, $177,000; Loup City schools, teaching materials center, $138,152; Bellevue School system, curriculum improvement planning, $11,000.

Dr. Miller said the advisory committee felt the three projects recommended for disapproval, while "excellent," did not meet the Title III intent of providing "innovative and exemplary programs."

The U.S. Office of Education must make a final determination on the project following review by a national advisory committee.

1960 Changed Politics, Says Ted Sorensen

Syracuse, N.Y. (UPI) — "Politics in this country haven't been the same since 1960 and never will be," says one of the late President John F. Kennedy's closest advisers.

Theodore C. Sorensen, special adviser to Kennedy, spoke at Syracuse University. Sorensen, a former Nebraskan said that President Kennedy made politics "interesting and exciting."

"Furthermore," Sorensen said Kennedy, "shattered the religious barrier so effectively that the religious issue is dead today."

No longer, Sorensen said, will 15 to 25 per cent of the electorate be predisposed to vote against a Catholic, not because Kennedy won the 1960 election, "but by his performance in the White House."

He predicted that "we will see in our lifetime a Negro in the Senate, and on the U.S. Supreme Court, and in the not too distant future, we may see a Jew, a Negro, and possibly a woman on the national ticket."

Sorensen is the author of a book that outlines his years with the late President.

Enevoldsen said he expects the number of students to drop to approximately 300 by the end of the school year.

The base commander's office reported Friday there are 1,000 military personnel about 900 airmen and 100 officers—at the Lincoln facility.

She became nationally known as the project coordinator of casework service for hard-to-reach families within the program of the New York City Youth Board. Subsequently, her work as the project director of the St. Paul, Minn. Family Centered Project aroused interest beyond our national boundaries.

In 1960 she was a Fulbright Lecturer in social work at the University of Sidney, Australia.

Some 600 airmen and officers are expected to be left at the base by June.

Last-minute filings Friday increased the opposition in three Lancaster County offices, while five of the ten officeholders seeking re-election will have no opponents in the upcoming elections.

Two Democrats, Paul Stoehr and C. A. Bates, filed Friday on the Democratic ticket for county commission-

Austin Files

John L. Austin, 35, of 2675 So. 10th, filed for sheriff on the Democratic ticket opposing Bob Colvin and Kenneth Tenopir in the primary. Austin, a self-employed businessman, said he was filing because he felt something should be done about the jail and the sheriff's office itself.

Former deputy sheriff Kenneth W. Nelson is opposing incumbent Merle Karnopp on the Republican ticket.

Democrat Lawson L. Chadwick became the only Democrat seeking the wide-open assessor post which is being relinquished by Arthur Davis

We purchased at greatly reduced prices the entire warehouse stock of 1965-66 slightly damaged and floor sample appliances from Hotpoint Appliance Company. We're passing this savings on to you — Believe me you will have to look hard for the slight imperfections. We also have searched our warehouse and checked our floor samples — adding them to this outstanding sale at equally great savings. Remember they will all carry the regular factory parts and service warranty.
